Painting Workshop: July 19 ~ 10 am to 4 pm

Presented by exhibit juror Kathy Collins on Gig Harbor's beautiful waterfront. Achieve dramatic high contrast paintings by charging in color and mixing flowing wet paint right on the paper. Workshop includes morning and afternoon demonstrations. Workshop fee: $90 museum members, $95 non-members. Limited to 15 participants. Call 253.858.6722 x5 to register.

Juror: Kathy Collins

Synchrony

Kathy Marin Collins grew up in the Pacific Northwest and expresses her appreciation of the area's natural beauty through her impressionistic paintings. She uses a rapid process technique for painting dramatic high contrast watercolors. By charging in color and mixing flowing wet paint right on the paper, Kathy achieves intense dark values while preserving white spaces.

Kathy's award-winning paintings have been juried into shows nationwide and featured in Watercolor Artist, American Artist, and The Artist's Magazine publications, as well as the Splash-Best of Watercolor series. She is a signature member of the Northwest and Montana Watercolor Societies, and Women Painters of Washington. Her work will appear in the book 100 Artists of the Northwest in 2013. Originally trained as a physician, she is now an enthusiastic painter and watercolor instructor. Visit kathycollinswatercolors.com for more on Kathy's work.
