James Stowe's Art

Artist
Art of all shapes and sizes! But mostly comic art, roleplaying art, roller derby art, and just weird stuff from my head art. Follow me on Twitter @JamesStowe and see even more of my art on my blog: jamesstowe.blogspot.com

July is here!! James Stowe consented to be our program back in March, but I hadn't gotten it confirmed until recently. Now our meeting is tomorrow and not much time to build up interest, but James is a talented artist who uses Adobe software to create his cartoons and artwork. I watched his video this past winter and he did a splendid job of tell folks how he works. I know many of you are interested in creating art, so his presentation will be of interest to many of you. Please bring a friend (earn an extra ticket for the CC drawing in December) and tell others who are interested in illustrating in Photoshop and Illustrator.

We will have a Wacom you can try drawing with. We will make Lynda dot com available for any tips we don't know.

We are planning our August Meeting which will be three dimensional printing. In preparation for that program we will have sign ups at this meeting to visit the FabLab in Tacoma. Check it out and be ready to sign up.
